

Defenses Down

Calla

It's hard enough for me
It's harder than you think There's nothing that I need aside from you to be there

It's taken it's toll on you but you survived the difficult part Some of them might (vulture/rupture)
Some of them (??? tear you apart?)

I set you on pedestal there for me to praise and adore you Destinied to a fall from grace with God Happens when you leave your defenses down

oo-oooh, oo-oooh

Maybe it's a gift you've been given Maybe it's the luck of the draw Some might say the life you've leading Others claim the innocence was lost

It's hard enough for me
It's harder than you think
There's nothing that I need
aside from you to be there

You're all I thought about before they built you up to knock you down You're all I thought about before
they built you up to knock you down

It's hard enough for me
It's harder than you think
There's nothing that I need
aside from you to be there

Remember how I picked you up off the floor I lifted you and ?????
You had to go and leave your defenses down

oo-oooh, oo-oooh
you're so.. (can't make this part out at all)
