

Trapped Inside The Moment

Callalily

Give me your hand and all of your attention
I don't wanna lose this feeling
Now, I'm trapped inside the moment
Why do we have to go back to reality?

Now we say goodbye,
I scream inside my head
As we try to hold the tears back
While we slowly walk away
Don't look back, just look for tomorrow

And I wanna say that this will last forever
And I want it to be so, but it's impossible
And I wanna hear that this will last forever
Not only in our memories
But forever in our hearts

Don't you hear the phone and
All of my apologies?
Forget about the sunrise creeping
Up on yesterday
Please don't let us disappear

When you're lying in your bedroom
And staring at your ceiling
You remember what it feels like
Bringing back old moments
Would you break down and cry?
Would you smile and close your eyes?
Would you put up another one?
Would you forget about the sunrise?

We can never bring it back
'Cause we will never bring it
Give me your hand and all of your Attention
I don't wanna lose this feeling
Now I'm trapped inside the moment.
