

Suffer My Disbelief

Callenish Circle

I'm hearing your reproachful words
Within seconds my rage is blackening me out
This feeling is way too much for me
I'm crying out my disbelief
Can't handle you showing discontent
After all this time you do not know me at all
Can't you just handle the truth
You're letting me down forevermore
Reality becoming crystal-clear
Don't bother me with your pathetic dreams
You stigmatised my fate
I would die for seeing you suffer my disbelief
This is the end of the line
Not endless after all
You've got to get away from here
Far away from here
