Call Me

Calling All Captains

Here I am, still picking up the pieces
Fall so hard, I'm changing with the seasons
All this time with nothing to believe in Stay inside my mind, I'm never leaving
I'm never leaving

Call me and tell me that you need me
I'm falling, you said it would be easy

There I was, still caught up in a feeling
Sifting through myself to find a reason
Bend and break, but figure it out
I got no more time for feeling shitty now

So call me and tell me that you need me
I'm falling, you said it would be easy
Look inside this cold, dead heart of mine
Sleeping soundly, knowing I'm not fine

My lungs are, my heart is
My thoughts are heavy
I can't sleep, I don't eat
I'm lonely every day
I try to limit myself, a subtle dose of despair
Am I all out of luck, or are you somewhere out there?
Are you somewhere out there?
Somewhere out there

So call me and tell me how you're feeling
'Cause I want to be the person you believe in
Look inside this cold, dead heart of mine

My lungs are, my heart is
My thoughts are heavy
I can't sleep, I don't eat
I'm lonely every day

So call me and tell me that you need me
'Cause I want to be the person you believe in
