

Undone

Calling All Captains

How you gonna come up on out of here?
Walkin' tall like you're so high in the stratosphere
But never come down to face all of your biggest fears
When you're alone do you just drink up and wipe your tears?
I wouldn't know so

Get up, dress up, show up
It's not enough to never give up, give up, give up
But you're still waiting for a reason to feel like this
Was all worth it somehow in the end

I will be the bigger man
Take a knee and let you win again
I think I speak for everyone
When I say you've got nothing left
I'll try to hold it, if you can't take it
You left me twisted up inside
Can't hold my statements
And I think, that I speak for everyone
You're undone

How you gonna walk up on out of here?
What got you heated
Was I nothing but crystal clear?
You won't manipulate me
I'll never volunteer
To what you think is so perfected, so cavalier
I'll block it out so

Get up, dress up, show up
It's not enough to never give up, give up, give up
But you're still waiting for a reason to feel like this
Was all worth it somehow in the end

I will be the bigger man
Take a knee and let you win again
I think I speak for everyone
I'll try to hold it, if you can't take it
You left me twisted up inside
Can't hold my statements
And I think, that I speak for everyone
You're undone

Tear me, slowly
I'll be better off, you'll see
