Come Back Home

Calum Scott

I hoped, you'd stay
Just a little bit longer
And I hoped you'd keep calling

With every single day I have to face
I wonder why our love was stolen away
With every single breath I have to waste

I'm burning like a fire
Will someone help my pain
I'm drowning above the water
Oh help me breathe again
And I, I can't let you go
So when you're ready
Come back home

I'd like to say
I'm sorry
And I thought you'd stay (you'd stay)

With every single night I'd have to face
With every single dream I'd have to chase
I wonder if our love's in the same place

I'm burning like a fire
Will someone help my pain
I'm drowning above the water
Oh help me breathe again
And I, I can't let you go
So when you're ready
Come back home, yeah

I would try and be the man that I said I would
Just come back home
And I'll try, I'll try cause I said I would
Just come back home
I will try and be the man that I said I would
Just come back home
And I'll try, and I'll try, and I'll try
Come back home
Please come back home

I'm burning like a fire
Will someone help my pain
I'm drowning above the water
Oh help me breathe again
And I, I can't let you go
So when you're ready
Come back home
