

God Knows

Calum Scott

Standing in the rain in California
Tried everything to get you off my mind
I've been doing my best trying not to call you
And you won't pick up even if you wanna
I know you got a million reasons why

And it's so stereotypical
Praying for a miracle
When there's no way out
But God knows I need you now
And God knows I need you now
I'm begging just turn around
'Cause I need you now

Forever turns strangers in the morning
And now we're just two people passing by
And I heard something from someone or other
That you're happy in love with another lover
So I'm calling out to someone in the sky

And it's so stereotypical
Praying for a miracle
When there's no way out
But God knows I need you now (God knows I need you)
And God knows I need you now (God knows I need you)
I'm begging just turn around
'Cause I need you now

It's so stereotypical
Praying for a miracle
When there's no way out
But God knows I need you now
And God knows I need you now
I'm begging just turn around
'Cause I need you now
