

Fireball Whiskey

Cam

Woke up with the bright southern sun in my face
In a ditch somewhere outside of town
I had no idea how I wound up in this place
But it takes so much more than that to bring me down

Followed my trail of cigarettes and trash
Back to the last bar I recall
In there I found a bartender cleaning up the mess
And he told me what went down the night before
He said

Fireball whiskey made your night my friend
It ain't pretty but it's worth it in the end
Don't work your life away, yeah
Sometimes its good to put your manners on the shelf
Don't let your pride get in the way
Just let your hair down and be your drunken self
Gotta go a little crazy to stay sane
And let fireball whiskey take the reins

Tried to get my things without waking him up
I was still a little drunk from the night before
Tripped over a bottle and fell right back into bed
Instead of slipping smoothly out the door

Fireball made my night again
It ain't pretty but its worth it in the end
Don't work your life away, yeah
Sometimes its good to put your manners on the shelf
Don't let your pride get in the way
Just let your hair down and be your drunken self
Gotta go a little crazy to stay sane
And let fireball whiskey take the reins

Well, I've been eyeing him for years
But we never got to talk
He always had another on his arm
But then one night I saw him out at the local honky tonk
All alone standing at the bar
Had a line of shots and washed them down with PBR
Let the fire ball whiskey do the rest
And it was going fairly well until it all came up again
But my breath was still cinnamon whiskey fresh

Fireball made my night again
It ain't pretty but its worth it in the end
Don't work your life away, yeah
Sometimes its good to put your manners on the shelf
Don't let your pride get in the way
Just let your hair down and be your drunken self
Gotta go a little crazy to stay sane
And let fireball whiskey take the reins

Don't work your life away, yeah
Sometimes its good to put your manners on the shelf
Don't let your pride get in the way
Just let your hair down and be your drunken self

Gotta go a little crazy to stay sane
And let fireball whiskey take the reins
