

Rain

CamelPhat

I saw my shadow
Looking for a change
Rolling down the windows
So I can feel the rain
Take me to your heaven
Crashing through the pain
Twenty past eleven
I can feel the rain

I can feel the rain
I can feel the rain
Take me to your heaven
So I can feel the rain

I saw my shadow
Looking for a change
Rolling down the windows
So I can feel the rain
Take me to your heaven
Crashing through the pain
Twenty past eleven
I can feel the rain

Heavy hearts
Beating like thunder
Head first into the unknown
As we lock eyes
Faces in the crowd fade
If this grain of sand
Was once a piece of stone
You're not alone
Stones roll from the peaks of mountains
Kissed by snow
Melted by the warmth of the sun
Racing into rivers
We drink
And water tastes of tears
Salt in the earth
Where flowers grow
In the garden of love
Street fly by
And you don't even know my name
I wonder if it matters

I saw my shadow
Looking for a change
Rolling down the windows
So I can feel the rain
Take me to your heaven
Twenty past eleven
I can feel the rain

I can feel the rain
I can feel the rain
Take me to your heaven

I can feel the rain
I can feel the rain
Take me to your heaven
So I can feel the rain
