Books Written for Girls

Camera Obscura

You can compliment me on the style of my hair Give me marks out of ten for the clothes I wear You probably thought I had more upstairs I disappoint you, I can see through your perfect smile He likes to read books written for girls Prides himself on being a man of the world In the darkest of places he gets his thrills He will disappoint you, if you see through his perfect smile

I think separation is ok YouDre no star to guide me anyway You only wanted me to play the fool Play by your rule Now my door has swollen from the rain God knows weDll never see her face again People get shattered in many ways They can disappoint you if you see through their perfect smiles

I think separation is ok YouDre no star to guide me anyway You only wanted me to play the fool Play by your rule
