

even my anger has issues

Can't Swim

How dare you compare yourself to all I've done
Found out the worst within you I had to run

Tried to tell you
Didn't listen
Tried to tell you

If I had my way I'd bet I tear you apart
My anger has issues when you're so far away
Should've known from the start
What goes around comes back around

I dare you to throw away your whole facade
So question yourself and what were your intentions
You read through the lines never learning the lesson

Tried to tell you
Didn't listen
Tried to tell you

If I had my way I'd bet I tear you apart
My anger has issues when you're so far away
Should've known from the start
What goes around comes back around
(What goes around comes back around)

Despite the world within the storyline
Could sort it out, if I had the time
It worked against you like the wind and sand
Let's travel back, where it all began
Let's travel back, where it all began

And if I had my way I'd fuckin' tear you apart
My anger has issues when you're so far away
Should've known from the start
What goes around comes back around

Living in the past is a funny thing
The longer you hold on, the longer it stings
You wrote a check you couldn't cash
What goes around came back around
