

Hey Amy

Can't Swim

Tell me, I know you can
'Cause I'll wait until the end

Amy, are you alone?
'Cause I can't find you now

Help me, I know you can
'Cause I have no one else

Was there nothing left?
This house was such a mess
The streets I knew went down the drain

Amy, did you survive?
Could you stand up and fight?

Tell me, which way to go
Cause you're all that I know

Was there nothing left?
This house was such a mess
The streets I knew went down the drain

The kids won't be raised in the places they played in
The sky opened up and the damage is done so just go

Was there nothing left?
This house was such a mess
The streets I knew went down the drain

I'm on the edge of giving up
It seems you finally ran out of luck
You disappeared, can't be found
When the sky came falling down

And it took everything we had
And it threw it into the ocean

(The rain came down, you drown in me)
