Can't Swim

Noticing you, noticing me
Gather up all your things, it's time to leave
I gotta know if it's something that I can't forget
Can I rip my brain out straight from my head?
Noticing me, noticing you
Gather up all the things inside your room
We gotta go, if it's something that I will regret
Can I rip my heart out straight from my chest?

'Cause I know
It's almost time for you to say goodbye (Oh, no)

Is there any more compassion (Compassion)
Or just distractions from the pain we always feel? (Oh, no)
And everything will come down crashing (Crashing)
And show us that we're all one in the same

Noticing them, noticing us
Gather up the debris and all the rust
They gotta know it was cracked underneath the foundation
We drown in the sin with no hope of salvation
Noticing us, noticing them
Gather up all the love of all your friends
We were fucked from the time of creation
The Devil's come and we're his for the taking

I know
It's almost time for you to say goodbye (Oh no)

Is there any more compassion (Compassion)
Or just distractions from the pain we always feel? (Oh, no)
And everything will come down crashing (Crashing)
And show us that we're all one in the same (Always)
All one in the same (The same)

Hope is nothing but a virus
It keeps you in check (Keeps you in check)
Hate is nothing but a prison
Like hands around your neck
Hands around your neck

(Oh no)

Is there any more compassion (Compassion)
Or just distractions from the pain we always feel? (Oh, no)
And everything will come down crashing (Crashing)
And show us that we're all one in the same (Always)
All one in the same (The same)
(Always)
All one in the same (The same)

It's time for you to say goodbye
