

Quitting

Can't Swim

You walk in, I ask to take your coat
Your hands are shaking and you're
Freezing from the walk back home
I know I shouldn't try
To bring you back once more

"I can learn to speak up when I talk"
I can learn to listen when you speak real low
I know I shouldn't try
To bring you back once more

This is it
The final bow, the curtain call
I studied all the lines I wrote
Could never play the starring role

This is it
It's time for me to bow my head
And as I hear the crowd applaud
I know that it's for you instead
