Who's Happy?

Can't Swim

The colors darken turned grey, the flowers on your casket displ ayed
And the eulogy was written by the person that you spent your ti me with
The sky turned darker then rained with no umbrella
In place inconvenienced all the people standing round, was this your final doing?

And you can put it on the list always said your second best jus t wouldn't do
Is that alright with you?
I don't want to know what's next I don't want to take the test
I won't pull through
I won't pull through

Ran for cover and shade cause god forbid they just stayed
All the strangers no familiar faces did you even get invited?

And you can put it on the list always said your second best jus
t wouldn't do
Is that alright with you?
I don't want to know what's next I don't want to take the test
I won't pull through
I won't pull through
And you can put it on the list always said your second best jus
t wouldn't do
Is that alright with you?
I don't want to know what's next I don't want to take the test
I won't pull through
I won't pull through

You can learn to forget some things blank it out from time to t ime
But what if it makes you who you are and it won't escape your m ind
I don't wanna read about it anymore
I don't want to think about you anymore

Who will be right by your side when the lights begin to fade?
I wish I could've been there when you told me not to stay
I don't want to read about it anymore
I don't want to think about you anymore

You can put it on the list always said your second...
