

Cat In The Brain

Cancerslug

Every night and every day its the same fucking thing its like I got a cat clawing up in my brain and when that fucker starts to scratch its gonna bring me pain but nothing like the pain Im gonna give to you and when it draws me out into the night and the anger takes away my sight if you could only hold me tight then I know that everything is gonna be alright my head is kill kill killing me it make me do such awful things I wanna hear your tortured screams and see your eyes
