

Funeral Procession

Cancerslug

yes i walk with death feel its cold dark stare everything you fear i can take you there ribs that tear through lungs skulls that snap and break what begins must end life is mine to take (im gonna take it)
eyes of black now glow teeth will soon sink in brave enough to live past the prime of man i will rip right through and embrace this pain death she follows me, for i know her name (i fking know it)
and at night my lady comforts me wraps me tightly in the grip of her wings let the world collapse, it never meant a thing as she sinks her teeth into my heart and enters me and is it ever enough?
no it is never enough
and is it ever enough?
no it is not see the red sun rise eclipsed by the moon
feel the earths last gasp and embrace your doom
