There Is No End

Cancerslug

To all you devils, and rebel angels
I can take you down to where the judgement is over
To all you idiots, trapped in oblivion
I can take you down to where the judgement is over

There is no end No burning end There is no end I have seen

To all you cattle, waiting for slaughter

I can take you down to where your heads have been severed To all the hopeless, trapped in your weakness I can't take you down to where the judgement is over

There is no end No burning end There is no end I have seen
