

[Alex]: (We're prolly f*ck this one up but..)

[Cassie]: (He knows us)

[Alex]: (Yup)

It's a scam

A charade

It's the games that they forced us to play

Such a shame

I wasted my youth for a minimum wage

And then these motherf*ckers try to say

I only got myself to blame

(Yeah)

f*ck that it's time to take what's mine

I ain't gonna live my life

Like a workhorse built to make some other motherf*cker rich

This world keeps telling me to go to hell (Woah)

Well that's a place a workin' man knows well

So just stay out of my way

Or this workhorse will trample you down

Is it wrong?

Such a crime?

To be born in the wrong place and time

What the f*ck!

You know it wouldn't be the first time I been locked up

But I have always been lucky stayin' one step ahead of the law

(Yeah)

And I'll die before I do more time

Livin' free until they take my life

And not a workhorse built to make some other motherf*cker rich

And I can say it again

This world keeps telling me to go to hell

Well that's a place a workin' man knows well

So stay out of my way

Or this workhorse will trample you down

Now I remember it just like yesterday

Some so-called boss had some shit to say

Until I punched him in his god damn f*ckin' face

Now, who the f*ck did you think you were talkin' to?

I'm not some workhorse breakin' my back for you

But I should thank you for reminding me

I'm wasting my time

(Bye-bye, haha!)
