

So Sad (The World's in a Tangle)

Canned Heat

This ole world's in a tangle
Dark clouds most everywhere
This ole world's in a tangle
Dark clouds most everywhere
Gotta free this air, but no one seems to care

Gonna tell all you people
The battle has just begun
Wanna tell all you people
The battle has just begun
Some black day we might not see the sun

So sad, we're had

People deep in and a-hiding
You know that they're afraid to see
People deep in and a-hiding
You know that they're afraid to see
They got blinded on, can't see you or me

You listen to me old folk
This old world gotta change
Listen to me you old folk
This world has gotta change
If the bombs start a-falling
There'll be no more home on the range

So sad, it's bad

We gotta take some consideration
And shake things up a bit
We gotta take some consideration
And shake things up a bit
Some say no, but still we must insist

Too much smoke
Too much gas
Too little green
And it's going back
Help us out or we'll shake you, yes yes yes

It's bad, you know we're had
