CANON

This current earth is full of hurt and worries
Saturated, losing hope of liberation
The music played on every station, is only played to play yo mind, it's just a play station

A slave, never will I be, I keeps my heart racing,
And I got that horse power the engine that sits up in my soul is chasing,
A hope that stands everlasting
But no one is asking, how do I get that same joy some believers bask in

Becoming a slave to sins mentality is what this world world is wrapped in th e fitting of depravity is not my fashion

An entire world perfect, how shall I grasp it,
When all I see is imperfection in the heart of masses

My thinking isn't far fetched, though it happens,
I'm not speaking too fast, you listen like molasses
I'm asking now would you rather live this life imagine a world
Without its worries knowing that this island has them can you imagine

Cause nobody in here is special
Especially when we all break down
I'm living this life to let go, let go
Cause when it all falls down
That's when I find my life in you

I'm on the road of riches, bling bling haven,
New Jerusalem is where I'm staying, welcome to a world where peace is stainl ess,
Cause still now and days you hear the pop in ever nation.
No John Dillinger with itchy fingers holding triggers naw
A kid can go to school and not worry bout a bomb
Not a need to bear arms, no automatic to palm,
No 30 caliber waiting to waste em you can disarm

We found peace screaming at the end of the road
This journey for liberation ain't a means for gold but the meaning is golden
Let it fill the soul this is just a land where living water sits on dry bone s
No worries I ain't gotta worry when I'm finally gone

You ain't martian I ain't never seen you phone to home

I'm going to this play where the mind is forever blown, marijuana never,
Cause the hit is home grown let em think about it

Cause nobody in here is special
Especially when we all break down
I'm living this life to let go, let go
Cause when it all falls down
That's when I find my life in you

I feel I'm losing my mind, tryna find a place where I can settled down and hear your voice
I'm running out of time
Running, running circles and I'm lost

So now I need to break away break away
I can feel it as you take away, away
The pain and if you feel me
Throw your hands in the air
If you're looking for the grace to find rest

Cause nobody in here is special
Especially when we all break down
I'm living this life to let go, let go
Cause when it all falls down
That's when I find my life in you
