I've been making waves, waves you can't ignore
I've been changing tides, I've got the ocean on the line,
he needs advice from me
Clockwork currency changing with the sun
If I had the power I would stockpile every hour in a house in a house somewhere

Are we just wasting away?
Are we just wasting the day?
Have we just wasted the daylight?
You never seemed to be so concerned,
I never seem to get out my words, I'll try again

I've been losing pounds, I'm sick of doing it all the time
If the years worked with me I would figure out a way of making money from you
I could spend you all the time, make a million more than once
When I can't find myself then I just picture someone else, they call it "living the dream"
(I'm living in a dream)

Are we just wasting away?
Are we just wasting the day?
Have we just wasted the daylight?
You never seemed to be so concerned
I never seem to get out my words right, I'll try again

NOW PUT YOUR HANDS IN THE AIR FOR YOUR SAVIOUR!
I THINK I'VE GONE TOO FAR I NEED A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN!
I PUT MY HANDS IN THE AIR YOU'RE MY SAVIOUR!
YOU LEAVE I NEED SOMETHING TO SLOW MY HEART RATE DOWN!

Are we just wasting away?
Are we just wasting the day?
Have we just wasted the daylight?
You never seemed to be so concerned,
I never seem to get out my words, I'll try again
(Never get my words out, trying to throw my words out, never get my words out right.)
