

Return

Capital Lights

Awaiting on the last days
The bold red lettering has set the course
We live preceding birth pains
The earthquakes shake the hands that fight the wars

Like a stranger in the night
Showers falling from the sky
The rider left the gates wide open

Then Heaven hums a new song
The lights glow dim, oh, oh
A nation set on tombstone
The angels took us in, oh, oh

Be ready for deceivers
They claim, "I am the Christ" but have no heart
Let rest the unbelievers who deny having a role
But they play their part

Like a stranger in the night
Showers falling from the sky
The rider shows his face so glowing

Then Heaven hums a new song
The lights glow dim, oh, oh
A nation set on tombstone
The angels took us in, oh, oh

So this is it, it's how it comes to an end
Clean us out like the floods that rained in
You're the thief in the night but we stand
So this is it, it's how we comes to an end

We'll go, we'll go
On the hour that you left us unknown
We're standing firm
The trumpet sounds

Then Heaven hums a new song
The lights glow dim, oh, oh
A nation set on tombstone
The angels took us in, oh, oh

Then Heaven hums a new song
The lights glow dim, oh, oh
A nation set on tombstone
The angels took us in, oh, oh, oh
