

Face First

Capsize

I failed myself
Again today
Liar, liar
It's always been that way
I fell face first while I was over thinking Cloud my mind again
Block it all away
Insecure and undeserving
Of all the love
you were reserving Negative and assuming I'm numbing myself
just to keep quiet

I couldn't commit
When it knew all along it would end up like this I won't pretend
That I don't want all my secrets back

My own reflection
won't look me in the eyes Cause it knows who I could've been But you killed him
you killed him

I tried to change for you Faked a smile and attitude
I never wanted it to be like this I never wanted to feel a fucking thing

I lost the key to purposely
Keep everything locked away inside of me
Still question myself Still hating myself
Still everything I deserve

Another blow to the head Slapped in the face
by the things that you said
This curse burns infinite Bound by the chains anchored in my head

And so it begins
every single good thing will come to an end Nothing ever lasts when every light in my path is burned out by my past
