

The Future is Cancelled

Captain, We're Sinking

Someday I'll find a way to say
"Maybe it's the way you hold your head"
It's the look that's on my face
It's not the lack of a better word
That if it's we both would say
We're just acquaintances
That's how we'll stay

Maybe I'd be happier if I didn't think this way
I'm lonely now I guess that's fine with me
If I was happier would I think this way
I'm lonely now and it's okay

Let the closet keep its secrets
Let the guilty have regrets
And let the parents have their sins

And let the children pay for them
And I'm sure we'll all pray
Human defect it stay the same
Wash the blood from all our hands

Now I'll let my neighbors see my closet
It's no secret anymore

Maybe I'd be happier if I didn't think this way
Maybe I'd be happier if I didn't think this way
Maybe I'd be happier if I didn't think this way
Maybe I'd be happier if I didn't think this way

Disappointment comes so easily to me
I'm nothing, it's no secret anymore
