

It's all making sense to me now
Where were you when my world came crashing down?
Save your breath, there's no need to apologize
This is the first time in my life I feel alive

Without, without, without, without you
Without, without, without, without you

Heartbreaker, can't you feel it?
When I needed you, while I made it through
My heart feel hollow when I knew all about the truth

Without, without, without you
([?] could be the only one)
Without, without, without, without you
([?] begone)

I was losing in my sleep
To your word, so save your breath
I'm better without you (I'm better without you)

Where were you when my world came crushing down?
You were nowhere to be found
You wanna act like you're worth it
But you never were

So believe in living this crime
I'm not the bitch that packed up and run away
Night after night, I question whether I lost the edge[?]
But now I come to think, it wasn't me, it was you

Now I come, come to think, it wasn't me, it was you
Now I come, come to think, it wasn't me, it was you
Now I come, come to think, it wasn't me, it was you
Now I come, come to think, it wasn't me, it was you

Heartbreaker, can't you feel it?
When I needed you, while I made it through

Without, without, without, without you
([?] could be the only one)
Without, without, without, without you
([?] begone)

I was losing in my sleep
To your word, so save your breath
I'm better without you (I'm better without you)