Ended With the Night

Caravan Palace

Have you heard, have you heard? About this girl who was ripped up by her roots Have you heard, what she learned? Like humility you win when you lose I have learned, I have learned The most horrifying nights have an end I was hurt, I was lost In the dark I found a way to a friend I am standing here in my ravine Once again I see a piece of the sky And my joy'll never be denied 'Cause I was meant to be here The only place on earth Where you are near, where you are near Was a flower, was so frail And I let the trees grow wild around me Grew so high, hid the sky Shaded everything I needed to see Then one night, someone came Took a knife and ripped me up by my roots Tossed astray, far away In my darkest night, I started to pray I am standing here in my ravine Once again I see a piece of the sky And my joy'll never be denied 'Cause I was meant to be here The only place on earth Where you are near, where you are near Why do you, why do you ask? Why I'm not blaming my God? I'll tell you, I'll tell you what He was the only one there Well I am standing here in my ravine Once again I see a piece of the sky And my joy'll never be denied 'Cause I was meant to be here The only place on earth Where you are near I am standing here in my ravine Once again I see a piece of the sky And my joy'll never be denied 'Cause I was meant to be here The only place on earth Where you are near, where you are near
