Where do lovers start? In a starry eye In a starry sea of gazes We lay ourselves to rest Where do lovers start? In the wild calling of our heart To an unknown place we call home We lay ourselves to rest To rest in this silent lullaby When there's not a whole lot left You're cradling the pieces Of everything I am All of my love Where does the love connect? In the starry sky In the spirit, in the roiling firmament Recovery is gain To rest in your silent lullaby When there's not a whole lot left You're cradling the pieces Of everything I am All of my love These wooden nickels age Time to settle up when there's nothing left Just be the life inside Just be my place of rest Where do lovers start? In a starry eye Bestowed upon the youth To carry me away To carry me away To carry me away To rest in this silent lullaby When there's not a whole lot left Keep cradling the pieces Of everything I am All of my love All of my love All of my love All of my love (You're carrying all the weight) All of my love (Carry it all away) All of my love

(You're carrying all the weight)
All of my love
(You're carrying all the weight)
All of my love
(Carry it all)
