

Is This The Fall?

Carbon Leaf

Is This The Fall?
Free, exactly where I should be
But, I admit sometimes I lie
Lost the war but tried
I tried every day
I tried to stay away
And now I've some things to get off my chest
You have ruined my unhappiness
And planets changed, lives rearranged
And you know, time doesn't lie

Is this the fall? Is this goodbye?
Not really sure, perhaps I should try
New catalog something to buy
That ought to cure my lonely insides
You tell me what I should do

I admit I need a guide
I need to share what's inside
I need to be found
I need to run aground
You never gauge your life with style
You could have lost just once in a while
My days are all gone waving you on
Time doesn't lie!

Is this the fall? Is this goodbye?
Not really sure, perhaps I should try
New catalog something to buy
That ought to cure my lonely insides
You tell me what I should do

How long can I wait another day?
How long can I wait another night?
How long can I wait another day?
How long can I wait another night?
Anotherâ?
