

Love Rain Down

Carbon Leaf

Effortless, she's walking through
Walking through every open door
Like a breeze, love kind of blows
When you know what you don't know
Everything I need to know
I learned as a child
And I won't say that I was ready
But I will say it was time

That I let love rain down
That I let love rain down

I've run dry of lofty words
Am I a saint? Am I a fool?
I'll let the judgment rest on your shoulders
What's in the heart is solely up to you
Everything I need to know
I learned as a child
And at the end of this sordid history
I don't wanna come up dry

So, I let love rain down
Yeah, I let love rain down

Effortless, she showers down
Down from every single cloud
Like the rain, she likes to soak
When you don't have it, nothing grows
When the last word on love falls upon the ground
If the last ray of sun don't ever shine
Well, I can't say that I was ever ready
But I can sure say it was time

That I let love rain down
Yeah, I let love rain down
That I let love rain down
That I let love rain down
