Carbonized Eyesockets

Carcass

The pungent aroma of hot, bubbling, molten gristle Blends with the stench of hot, singeing flesh soldered to liqui d muscle.

As the cornea is pierced and fried sizzling retina Burning and spitting on the now blackened, charred fovea

Holes of crumbling carbon are all that are left Charred eye-sockets of hot scorched flesh

Fusing symblepharon, your flesh turns into coke Extravasative gunge now black, pungent smoke. Charred eye-sockets - horrifically pernicious Your sight irreparable by your optician

Once flowing blood is now dried, resembling black pudding Now all that bleeds is a slow trickle of hot, sticky muscle. The sclera is a lump of carbon burning on smouldering membrane Your eyeballs are blistering, your optic nerves now aflame.