

Burned as bright as a rocket, all falsehoods set alight
Flame raised in shame on a speedier course
And who's to blame for Breaking its own self inflicted graceless home?

[Blind be spirit-core with its lies]

A misty veil hides pitifull vengeance
Born to sail on all of the seas and a-never returning
Needs to take some beauty sleep
Deep in the oceans, obsolete
Kindly spears core with its penknife

Blind be spirit, lost again, dust in eyed
Heavy heads get buried deeper
Sand in, scratching, naked eyes
Lost again in a lie all dreadfull - Oh Yeah!

When truth looks like a lie in a different way and Kept alive and bound by bad chains
In a beautiful cage
Inside is fear and stable minds
Always forever questioning stubborn you
Befriending your tears and in a different way
The need to take some beauty sleep
Deep in the ocean, is obsolete

[Blind be spirit-core with its lies]

Sand in, scratching, naked eyes
Lost again, in a sea sick land all weepier
Blast me silence, hurt me ears, and blast again
With a rifle all dreadfull - Oh Yeah!

Blind be spirit dust in eyed heavy heads get deep and...

{shouty bit - ideas?, could be something about lies}

Truth looks like a lie, was held it out to him
Who shook the tree viciously for love
Love
Love
Love

Blind be spirit, lost again, dust in eyed
Heavy heads get buried deeper
Sand in, scratching, naked eyes
Lost again, in a sea sick land all weepier
Blast me silence, hurt me ears, and blast again
With a rifle all dreadfull - Oh Yeah!
Belly-eyed bleeder, terminal deceiver
You fibber of the order
Comes swimming up a shape with a stinging tail
