

Lost In Devotion

Carly Rae Jepsen

I've got a castle in mind
There's no one inside
But it's precious to me, covered up in vines
You could crack the code your way
Held me to entwine
All the secret rooms that never see the light

Come take me back to the rhythm where we lost control
Back to "I need you" and "I can't let go"
Down to the river, late after dark, I'm lost in devotion
Thousands of cities and the starts tonight
All of the stories that I can't get right
Lead me down to the river, late after dark, I'm lost in devotion

I want you back in my life
There's no other guy
Who can hold my hand exactly how I like
We could try the thing your way
Learn my lesson right
Come and kiss, forgive me, rock me through the night

Come take me back to the rhythm where we lost control
Back to "I need you" and "I can't let go"
Down to the river, late after dark, I'm lost in devotion
Thousands of cities and the starts tonight
All of the stories that I can't get right
Lead me down to the river, late after dark, I'm lost in devotion

You'll always fall for confidence
Take off your clothes and let's be friends
Head on your chest, guess I'm afraid
'Cause I'm lost in devotion, oh-oh
Oh-oh

And I'm not scared of feeling for you now
And I'm not scared of looking back at everything
I'm not scared of feeling for you now
I'm just scared of missing out on everything
No, I'm not scared, no, I'm not scared
Well, I'm kind of scared 'cause I just need your love

Come take me back to the rhythm where we lost control
Back to "I need you" and "I can't let go"
Down to the river, late after dark, I'm lost in devotion
Thousands of cities and the starts tonight
All of the stories that I can't get right
Lead me down to the river, late after dark, I'm lost in devotion, oh-oh

Oh-oh
Lost in devotion, oh-oh
