

California Bound

Carolina Liar

You're miles away
You just can't relate
Are you what surrounds you?
You feel alive
At least you think that life
Is something in you,
What do we know?

There's a southern bound train tomorrow
Takes us out of this dirty town
Chase the sun back to the west coast,
In eight hours we're California bound,
We're California bound

You got butterflies,
Well so do I
Just pretend that they're not there
We can only rely
On ourselves like every time
It's just a new plan,
What do we know?

There's a southern bound train tomorrow
Takes us out of this dirty town
Chase the sun back to the west coast,
In eight hours we're California bound,
We're California bound
We're California bound

You look so brave
With the sun in your face
Just gotta believe me,
Why don't we go?

There's a southern bound train tomorrow
Takes us out of this dirty town
Chase the sun back to the west coast,
In eight hours
Oh oh oh forget everything tomorrow
We'll be on a brand new road
Chasing the sun back to the west coast,
In eight hours we're California bound,
We're California bound
We're California bound
...We're California bound