

My World

Caroline's Spine

I once had a dream of all the colours in harmony, but so did MLK and look what happened to him.
In walking through Will Roger's farm,
I saw that man's beauty and charm.
Such the humanitarian taken so suddenly Yet, I see a world of hope and I see a world where you won't choke on the smoke of machines or by the hand of another.
Camelot's spaceman was wise until Zapruder shocked mine eyes and to all the world's surprise, the champ was defeat

I remember my history class when we heard of the Challenger blast.
All those lessons of the past got seven new heroes.
I see a world of love and I see a world full of hugs front all the people standing together.
I ain't saying that my life is bad but for now this dream is all I'll ever have until my world becomes a reality.
