

She said, "who answered the phone?
I don't understand, I thought you'd be alone
Tonight."
I said, "the girl who lives here,
Said the band could stay if we bought the Beer."
She said, "I don't like the sound of that,
Tell me what she looks like - thing or fat?"
I said, "uh...i can't really say,
What does it matter anyway?"

I said, "it's good to hear your voice,
I really do miss you but we made the right
Choice."
She said, "I hope you're eating well and
Living here w/o you is living through Hell."
I said, "...well I may be home early
It'll be a few days till I know for surely"
"Shirley! Is that her name?
Is she in love and do you feel the same?"
No, I don't feel the same

I cannot find a way to make peace with
You today.
So where will we be tomorrow?

So I busted my ass to make it home and
When I got there - she wasn't alone
She said, "you're home so soon.
I didn't get a chance to clean the room."
I said, "...forget this house...
Road cheese calls both man and mouse."
She said, "don't end it this way.
I really did miss you everyday
Well...almost everyday...in every way."

I cannot find a way to make peace with
You today.
So where will we be tomorrow?
