

True Star

Caroline's Spine

When I look at the sky,
It all gets so heavy
And the reason why
Is an endless journey

And sometimes it just
Seems so far away
Then I look in your eye
And I find a place

It seems as vast as outer space
And I find myself with
One thing left to say
That you are my only true star

Shine with all your might
Guide me through this lonely night
And I want whatever you want
And after all we've said

And we've done
Maybe, I think,
It's time you came with me
Sometimes when I wake up

I feel so heavy
And getting off the floor
Can be such a journey
Until I remember why we ran away

Then I pretend
To see your face
And I strike up interesting conversation
To steal your heart

When you find me in your doorway
You are my only true star
Shine with all your might
Guide me through

This lonely night
And I want whatever you want
And after all we've said and we've done
Maybe, I think,

It's time you came with me
Then I remember why we ran away
Then I remember why we ran away
Then I remember why we had to run

Because you are my only true star
Shine with all your might
Guide me through
This lonely night

And I want whatever you want
And after all

We've said and we've done
Maybe, I think,

It's time you came with me
