

Rebuilder

Carrollton

The rubble and the wreckage
I've forgotten who I was
You reached out for my hand
And found me in the dust
And my soul had given up
But You wouldn't leave me undone

Rebuilder
My walls were crumbling
Restorer
You brought the light into the room
And filled my lungs so I could learn to breathe again
My shelter
My warmth in the coldest night
My helper
You held me up 'til I could stand
On the promise that You are
Rebuilding me

I have seen the dawn
Start to break between the cracks
The beginnings of the day
I never thought would come to pass
But You brought me back to life
You are the morning in my night

Rebuilder
My walls were crumbling
Restorer
You brought the light into the room
And filled my lungs so I could learn to breathe again
My shelter
My warmth in the coldest night
My helper
You held me up 'til I could stand
On the promise that You are
Rebuilding me

To the man I am today
With all my fear and shame
You rescued my heart and
Showed me that joy can come through pain
You brought dancing to these streets
My second chance for peace

Rebuilder
My walls were crumbling
Restorer
You brought the light into the room
And filled my lungs so I could learn to breathe
My shelter
My warmth in the coldest night
My helper
You held me up 'til I could stand
On the promise that You are
Rebuilding me
Oh, You promise that You are

Rebuilding me
