

Belong

Cary Brothers

Wake up lonely with you by my side.
One more night it doesn't feel,
There are movies playing in your eyes.
You dream of our fortunes, but you're wrong.

I don't belong to you.

The moon is the only friend I have outside.
One more drink, and I'll be healed.
I told you the words, and I knew it was a lie.
I wish I could offer an appeal.

You're wrong, I don't belong
But your wrong, I don't belong to you.

What I'd give for that first night when you were mine.
You were mine.
Tried with all that I have to keep you alive.
Alive.
Alive.
I wasn't taught this way,
With a thousand things to say.
I was born with a broken heart.
What I'd give for that first night when you were mine.
Thought you were mine.

So I'll put this cigarette to bed,
Pull some sheets from off you side.
I put my arm around you safe in the night.
Still dream of fortune, but you're wrong.

I don't belong.
You're wrong,
I don't belong.
You're wrong,
I don't belong.

I don't belong.
I don't belong.
