CARYS

Mind if I crash here
Can I stay a while?
We can
Drink the coffee you made last night
Catch me up on your whole life
Something about you
Just makes me smile
We can
Sit around on the couch and cry
I could do this for my whole life

You speak my language
Like no one else can
I've tried so many times
But they don't understand
You speak my language
And you don't even try
Even when I say nothing
It's like you're reading my mind

Hey, thanks for showing up
Cause you walked into my life and now it's glowing up
Yeah, you, thanks for showing love
Cause my way too much
Is your just enough
Is your just enough

Swear I knew you
In my other life
We can
Laugh too loud in the grocery line
We'll be there in no time
Match my energy
Do we share a brain?
I saw
All the truth written on your face
You and me we're the same

You speak my language
Like no one else can
I've tried so many times
But they don't understand
You speak my language
And you don't even try
Even when I say nothing
It's like you're reading my mind

Hey, thanks for showing up
Cause you walked into my life and now it's glowing up
Yeah, you, thanks for showing love
Cause my way too much
Is your-
Hey, thanks for showing up
Cause you walked into my life and now it's glowing up

Is your just enough
