

A Little More

Casey Barnes

I ain't gonna wait just a couple of days
I could wait a thousand years
You may think one day these feelings will change
But you don't have a thing to fear

I ain't moving on in a couple of months
I could wait a thousand years
You may think my love won't be patient enough
But I ain't going anywhere

I ain't giving you up
I'll be sticking around
That pretty look on your face
There ain't nothing I'd change
'Cause you're perfect the way you are

Come on, baby, you're amazing
I've never ever been so sure
That every imperfection makes me love you just a little more
Come on, baby, you're crazy
I'm never gonna leave, I'm yours
'Cause every imperfection makes me love you just a little more

Love you just a little more
Love you just a little more

Girl, you've got a smile that could light up a room
And I could write a thousand songs
'Bout the curves of your hips and the taste of your lips
But you think everything is wrong

I'ma gonna say it a million ways
Until I make it crystal clear
You're the one that I want
So let forever start right here

Come on, baby, you're amazing
I've never ever been so sure
That every imperfection makes me love you just a little more
Come on, baby, you're crazy
I'm never gonna leave, I'm yours
'Cause every imperfection makes me love you just a little more

Love you just a little more
Love you just a little more

I ain't giving you up
I'll be sticking around
That pretty look on your face
There ain't nothing I'd change
'Cause you're perfect the way you are

Come on, baby, you're amazing
I've never ever been so sure
That every imperfection makes me love you just a little more
Come on, baby, you're crazy
I'm never gonna leave, I'm yours

'Cause every imperfection makes me love you just a little more
Yeah

Oh yeah, yeah

Love you just a little more

Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

Love you just a little more

Mmm hmm mmm

Love you just a little more

'Cause every imperfection makes me love you just a little more
