

Let's Not Say Goodbye Again

Casey Donahew Band

A broken bottle night
A knockdown, dragout fight
She was screamin', cryin' about the lyin'
She said, "you're not even tryin'."
So I took off to be alone
She said, "you don't have to come back home."

It's funny how the truth sounds different
You're hangin' on to every word
Do you remember when I said I love you?
How long has it been?
Well, I don't want this to end
Let's not say goodbye again

Who I used to be
Don't look the same to me
I was loud and lazy, damn near crazy
You got bored and you tried to change me
And I stepped up and we had it out
I'm not sure what the hell we're fightin' about

It's funny how the truth sounds different
You're hangin' on to every word
Do you remember when I said I love you?
How long has it been?
Well, I don't want this to end
Let's not say goodbye again

Time to time I pay the cost
Maybe it's time you realize what you lost

It's funny how the truth sounds different
You're hangin' on to every word
Do you remember when I said I love you?
How long has it been?

How long has it been?
Nah, nah, nah, nah, nah

How long has it been?
Well, I don't want this to end
Now, let's not say goodbye again
