

Missing You

Casey Donahew Band

Walked a circle on the floor
I can't take this anymore
I gave you every reason to leave
And none to stay
Now I hope you're better off
Nothing new to me, I lost
You had hopes and dreams
And I was only in the way

And now I'm here missing you
I'm still clinging to the past
Still hoping you'd come running back
But your memory's fading fast
And I'm still holding on
To this bottle to get me through
There's a chance of moving on
But there's days I miss missing you

Trying to drink you off my mind
Does it take more whiskey or more time?
I've got plenty of both
Sitting on this ol' bar stool
Broken memories, broke shot glass
I'll be that story from your past
I let you go without a fight
I'm such a fool

And now I'm here missing you
I'm still clinging to the past
Still hoping you'd come running back
But your memory's fading fast
And I'm still holding on
To this bottle to get me through
There's a chance of moving on
But most days I miss missing you

The way she loved me
I don't understand why
"I gave you everything
And you couldn't even try"

And now I'm left missing you
Still clinging to the past
Still hoping you'd come running back
But your memory's fading fast
And I'm still holding on
To this bottle to get me through
There's a chance of moving on
But most days I miss missing you

There's a chance of moving on
But most days I miss missing you
