

Last Regret

Casey Donovan

Yeah

You promised me, baby you swore
It would be different this time
So I trusted you, opened the door
I let you right back inside

Why'd you have to tell me lies
I can read your guilty eyes
Down on your knees, but baby tonight
Your all out of second chances

No more forgive and forget
Its true that this is the end
Cause you broke all my heart into pieces
Left me there on the floor barely breathing
You'll never see me again, this is my last regret

You fooled me once but I took you back
You said that you could change
Telling me how she was the last and it was just a mistake
Why'd you have to tell me lies
I smelled her perfume on your shirt lastnight
Down on your knees but baby this time, your all out of second chances

No more forgive and forget
Its true that this is the end
Cause you broke all my heart into pieces
Left me there on the floor barely breathing
You'll never see me again, this is my last regret

There's a freedom of letting go, of you forever
No you'll never cross my mind again, no not ever
You are my last regret

Yeah

No more forgive and forget
Its true that this is the end
Cause you broke all my heart into pieces
Left me there on the floor barely breathing
You'll never see me again (Yeah) this is my last regret

This is my last regret

This is my last regret

Cause you broke all my heart into pieces
Left me there on the floor barely breathing
You'll never see me again this is my last regret
