GEMINI 4

Casey

One last horizon left to break before the end
When everything you wanted goes to die
I've seen things you've never dreamed
It's burned into my eyes
I built the path of most resistance
And marked the way with bleeding thoughts

There was never anything to hold onto
And I don't know what brought me back to you
The echo is still so loud
Ask me what it's worth when it all goes
Right back to what we knew
'Cause I won't look down

Oh, courage 'til the end
A hero's return
Falling back to earth
Was it all for nothing?
Is there anything to learn
From the other side of creation
I will sift through the dirt
Tell me it's not too late to survive
Tell us it's not too late to survive

There was never anything to hold onto
And I don't know what brought me back to you
The echo is still so loud
Ask me what it's worth when it all goes
Right back to what we knew
'Cause I won't look down

One last horizon
Rust and ashes floating through the clouds
The sun goes out
There's something about the way it pulls me in
Like I never left and still everything's the same
But I won't forget what the whisper said
"They'll take it away when you're not looking"

There was never anything to hold onto
And I don't know what brought me back to you
The echo is still so loud
Ask me what it's worth when it all goes
Right back to what we knew
'Cause I won't look down

There was never anything to hold onto
And we both know what's left to suffer through
The echo is still so loud
Ask me what it's worth when it all goes
Right back to what we knew
And follow the sound

Oh, courage 'til the end
A hero's return
Falling back to earth
Was it all for nothing?

Is there anything to learn
From the other side of creation
I will sift through the dirt

Tell me it's not too late to survive
Tell us it's not too late to survive
Falling back to earth
Was it all for nothing?
Is there anything to learn
From the other side of creation
I will sift through the dirt
