

Escape

Caskets

Just take me, keep me warm
Pretend that we've left it behind
Forsake me if you want
And keep on telling all your lies

At a million miles an hour, we could watch it fade away
We can want to live forever, we could die for one more day
I believe it's now or never to be free for one more day
So take me, so take me

But still I stare as I see nothing
Now that I've bared my soul
But still I'm stuck in the motions
I live in the moment alone
Just take me, just take me away

They, they say it sets us free
That neverending screen that's on you and on me
But it's not enough it seems
What should I say?
Fill in the void of my pain
Withering souls in dismay
Covering scars that I make
With my shame
Filling me up with envy that I say I can't control

But still I stare as I see nothing
Now that I've bared my soul
But still I'm stuck in the motions
I live in the moment alone
Just take me, just take me away

Just take me away

I seem to come alive when it fades to black
Look what I could become
But instead I crave the need for highs in your eyes, oh
Can you see the real me now?
Do I want it bad enough?
I want to feel a sense of life
But I'm blinded by the lights

But still I stare as I see nothing
Now that I've bared my soul
But still I'm stuck in the motions
I live in the moment alone
Just take me
Just take me away

Can you see the real me now?
Do I want it bad enough?
I want to feel a sense of life
But I'm blinded by the lights
Just take me away
