

Our Remedy

Caskets

I don't want your love
I'm better off, I'm better off without you
I don't want your love
I'm better off, I'm better off without you
I don't want your love
I'm better off, I'm better off without you
I don't want your love
I'm better off, I'm better off without you

Drown all of myself
I've fallen out of touch with my own mind
I've severed every echo that I find
Are we dead, or am I sleeping deep?
Opposites in your eyes
What if I'd forgive
Would you feel the regret?
I guess we've got time until I

Drown all of myself
Mask it with pretense

I think I'm falling
You are the one I see dancing
Breathe in our remedy
And I don't ever wanna see the other side of you 'cause
I'm better off, off without you
'Cause you were like that, like that before

You said that the time would never change us
You bled as if death was there to save us
Though we both needed saving from ourselves

I'm better off, I'm better off without you
You twist my words, yeah, you twist my words, yeah
I'm better off with feeling like it's not you
You twist my words, yeah, you twist my words, yeah
I'm better off, I'm better off without you
You twist my words, yeah, you twist my words, yeah
I'm better off with feeling like it's not you

I think I'm falling
You are the one I see

I think I'm falling
You are the one I see dancing
Breathe in our remedy
And I don't ever wanna see the other side of you 'cause
I'm better off, off without you
'Cause you were like that, like that before

I think I'm falling
I think I'm falling
You are the one I see dancing
Because I'm falling
Breathe in our remedy
And I don't ever wanna see the other side of you 'cause
I'm better off, off without you

'Cause you were like that, like that before

We needed saving from ourselves

Falling

You are the one I see

I think I'm falling

You are the one I see

I think I'm falling

Drown all of myself

I think I'm falling
