

Silhouettes

Caskets

Lungs retracting
I can hardly breathe
Yeah
Motionless, I'm lost in disbelief
Incomplete

Delusional, paranoid me
That's what it feels like to be
Introverted, alone
Take what you wanted and leave
None of it I'll ever need
I'm just a silhouette on the wall

I'm invisible always

You can't keep waiting for me to find
A reason why old friend
I can't live this life
In fear of you
And it's tearing me in two

I've lost a lot of love
I'm better off with heartache left in its place
And now I'm nameless, anonymous
But one of us will perish without a trace

And I will contemplate or waste away
But now I've grown, I'll be OK

You can't keep waiting for me to find
A reason why old friend
I can't live this life
In fear of you
And it's tearing me in two

And I'd be nothing, nothing
Barely alive
I would be nothing, nothing
And nowhere to hide
And I feel nothing, nothing
Empty inside
And if you guide my soul
Our silhouettes will align

I try to climb the wall
But I keep falling through the floor
Same as always
Silhouettes will align
I know one day
I'll find a way
To separate myself from you always
Silhouettes will align

Lungs retracting I can hardly breathe, yeah
