

Six Feet Down

Caskets

I'm living in rage
A war that I wage

This lights been blinding me from a distance
It's haunting me and my regrets
Draining the life out of my existence
Torture me 'til I forget

If you could run from yourself, would you run?

So, you can drag me down
'Cause I'm better off lost than found
Abandoned here forever
Break this ground
And separate me now
I can't breathe unless I'm six-feet down

Obsessed, out of luck
I'm a mess
Down on my knees I confess
That I'm consumed by make believe

Sometimes I figure out
My saving grace, my doubt
And when it's over
Will I find relief?

Drag me down
'Cause I'm better off lost than found
Abandoned here forever
Break this ground
And separate me now
I can't breathe unless I'm six-feet down

I can't breathe unless I'm six-feet down

I can't breathe
I can't breathe
I can't breathe
I can't breathe

A war that I wage
Sell your soul
Sell your soul on for anything
Anything at all
So go on Animal
Animal you'd kill anything
Anything at all

Drag me down
'Cause I'm better off lost than found
Abandoned here forever
Break this ground
And separate me now
I can't breathe unless I'm six-feet down

Sell your soul
Sell your soul on for anything
I can't breathe unless I'm six-feet down
