In the fast lane I drive it like I stole it
Know my future because I wrote it
When you on the come up no one support it
And when you on top it's all distorted

I'm searching for some things that I can't seem to find
Smash the rear view mirror cause I can't rewind

May never get you back but I'ma worry about the time
What point do you learn how to walk with your demons
Swear I seen it coming still I pushed it to the side
When you living in the moment you forget all your reasons
I just needed you to believe in me I guess that was too much
The shit I did for you ain't never benefited me but you're mad cause I'm done

May never get you back but I'ma worry about the time
Cause some things are worth way more I can't be wasting mines
Searching for a answer that ain't meant for me to find
I stopped looking in the mirrors and I just left it all behind

In the fast lane I drive it like I stole it
Know my future because I wrote it
When you on the come up no one support it
And when you on top it's all distorted

I'm searching for some things that I can't seem to find
Smash the rear view mirror cause I can't rewind

All I did was show love
People throwing dirt on my name
But I came out the mud all the same
Looking to the future cause the past couldn't change
Man there's blood on the money but there's none on the chain
The car fast switch lanes look where I came Wasn't nothing funny bout it it was major pain
Neglected as a child so I made a name
Lost some homies over petty shit
I gave them boys a rope and let them hang Man my heart stained
I still show up give my all like I'm Lebron James
Seen a lot of shit in this game and it's all strange
I can't show em what's inside my hand like its a card game
Man I gotta stay to myself
Ain't too many I could trust
Man I swear loyalty is everything
No such thing as too much

In the fast lane I drive it like I stole it
Know my future because I wrote it
When you on the come up no one support it
And when you on top it's all distorted

Smash the rear view mirror cause I can't rewind
